Welcome to Mid Rinnigall, a traditional detached stone-built cottage in need of complete renovation on a tranquil site on the scenic island of Hoy. The property is situated around the bay from Lyness Pier and has spectacular views over the Mill Bay to the pier and the Island of Flotta.

The property benefits from an electricity and water supply and there are also services to a pad where previous owners sited a static caravan.

The property has two outbuildings, the largest measuring 4.3 x 12.3m.

Hoy lies to the West of the Orkney archipelago and is known for its rugged landscape, wildlife, wartime history and spectacular coastline. Facilities on the island include a well stocked shop, post office, petrol station, swimming pool, museum and theatre. There are two regular ferry services to Hoy; one from Stromness to Moaness and another from Houton to Lyness.
